ROOM WITH A VIEW — FOR TWO!

New Fargason® Tent Chair® Blind Condo Provides Comfort and Versatility

True hunters know that a great deal of time spent in the field is waiting for their quarry to come into view. Now you can spend that time with a hunting buddy, and still remain completely and comfortably concealed, since the industry innovators at Fargason Outdoor Technologies®, Inc., have developed a new-for-2008 portable hunting blind system — the Fargason Tent Chair® Blind Condo.

Perfect to accommodate two adult shooters, it's also the ideal blind for taking along the kids, and sets up easily in seconds. It's lightweight and features a water-resistant camo shell — all you have to do is unfold the built-in full sized folding chair and pull the outer shell over you. And Fargason has even included a variety of conveniences to make your stay in this "condo" even more appealing — from armrests and cup holders to roomy side windows to keep an eye out for game. Plus, there's plenty of space for your important gear like calls, snacks, scents and other accessories in two handy, spacious side pockets. So whether your hunting big game or turkeys, Fargason has got you and your hunting companion covered — inside and out.

This unique, portable blind provides plenty of room along with maximum concealment that stands up to any kind of weather, and when it's time to change position, it's just as simple to take down, as it is to assemble. To make sure you keep a low profile in the field, the Fargason Tent Chair Blind Condo is available in Fargason's new leaf pattern which is sewn into the existing Mossy Oak® New Breakup® camo shell. The whole system comes with a practical carrying case, complete with adjustable shoulder strap.
